

Sometimes people cannot be treated at home by volunteers or family. They need to go to the nearest health clinic or hospital to get the help they need.